Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-3,5-21 and 32-36 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-11 of copending Application No. 10/225,454. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both are directed to a fluidic device having orthogonal segments. The Office notes this rejection is proper against the pending system claims because a prior restriction requirement did not result in the 10/225,454 application (e.g. this application is a continuation in part) .

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-3,5-6 and 32-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Manz et al.(USP 5,599,503).

Manz et al. teach a microfluidic system(4). Figure 3 teaches a first channel(20) that has a first end in communication with inlet channels (17-19). The second and opposite end of channel (20) is met orthogonally by channel(21) that also has a first end and a second end. Column 4 lines 20+ teach channel(20) is facilitates optical analysis and has been read on the claimed "detection channel".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 7-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Manz et al.

See Manz et al. Supra.

Manz et al. are silent to the claimed detection channel having a cross section area about 0.1 and 5 times the cross sectional area of at least one of the first and second channels. Manz et al. is also silent to the dimensions of the channels and volumes.

The court decided In re Boesch (205 USPQ 215) that optimization of a result effective variable is ordinarily within the skill of the art. A result effective variable is one that has predictable and well-known results. The relative dimension of channels and of a device area a result effective variable that have the well known and the expected results of altering fluid flow rates through the device.

The court decided In re Yount (80 USPQ 141) "... mere size ordinarily is not a matter of invention...". Additionally, the court also reiterated Yount in In re Rose (105 USPQ 237) again stating "... the size of the article under consideration is not ordinarily a matter of invention ...".

It would have been within the skill of the art to modify Manz et al. and have the detection channel(117) between 0.1 and 5 times the cross sectional area of the first channel and the length of the detection channel from about 10 microns to 1mm, as optimization of a result effective variable and also in view of Yount and Rose above.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 4 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3,5-21 and 32-36 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
